Herogrinder: Tactical Combat Arenas is a free-to-play team based first-person shooter, developed by Epic Games Budapest. Just like other games of the genre, the goal of the game is to control the forces and destroy your opponents to complete the mission. Herogrinder's unusual feature is that all the action takes place on a ground of chessboard-like layout (4x4), a pattern where the game is simple to learn, but the real play feels like playing a real BattleField game. On the server with "permanent" characters, that is, players who are connected to the game on a regular basis (rather than "sporadic", players who just show up occasionally), the weapon changes are still just a "permanent" change, but they apply to all the weapons belonging to the character; so you can't have, for example, a grenade launcher and an assault rifle at the same time. It is possible that this feature will be implemented on the server, but currently it's not. I have the problem with the beard that you can set it on, but it makes me look like the mad prophet of chaos. Anyways, can we have the hair and the beard on the same person? it's possible, but is it allowed? I know that neither character nor weapon should be changed permanently, but there are very rare circumstances where you need to change them. Maybe it's possible to require the modifications to be done in the game lobby, or make them very expensive, but not permanent. I'm thinking of "add that firearm to your character" kind of thing. That way only the mods that are stuck in their guns can pay for the new equipment. We have "buildings" and these "buildings" have their own equipments. I think it is possible to have "buildings" on "buildings" (kind of nested buildings). It might be
